Reference for Command IT

St Luke's College is a Catholic Secondary College, the only private college in the Pilbara. Information Technology is an integral part of our business and it is imperative that we have a reliable Information Technology system for our staff and students.

St Luke's College engaged the services of Command IT for the first time last year. Command IT were instrumental in identifying the flaws in another contractor's work and advising of the rectification required. Without the professional services of Command IT our warranties for this work would have been void.

We would be happy to recommend Command IT to other businesses, for their professional, timely and expertise.
